The rising price of energy and raw materials is difficult to charge to the end customers. Increasing international competition from Asia and Eastern Europe

Financing with 1 risk spreading1.

Do you only have one client? Most likely not. Within your order portfolio you spread your risks. By using a financing company that is not related to one of the Dutch banks you diversify your financial sources and receive an independent leasing proposal.

Adapt instalments to orders?

Have you recently acquired an order for which an investment in new machinery is necessary? Align your payments with your cash flow. With this order you can repay a large part of the machine. After the order is finished the instalments can be reduced in order to keep affordable the machine with a lower degree of occupation. This way of financing is called Cashflow Matching lease.
